A. V. BOUILLON WANTS TO KNOW HOW COUNCIL CAN DISMISS COMMISSIONER

Especially Desires to Know How Civic Legislative Body's Ruling Can Be Made Effective

Commissioner Bouillon this morning forwarded the following letter to City Solicitor Bown with a request that it be replied to at an early date.

Mr. John C. F. Bown,
City Solicitor.

Dear Sir—In view of recent events relative to the position I hold as City Commissioner, and of the efforts of a majority of the City Council to remove me from office without any specific cause, following proceedings which I deem to be obscure, unfair, and illegal, and in view further of the interference which this state of affairs is causing in the handling of the city's business, and of the demoralizing effect that the repeated efforts of the said majority of the council is having among the city's organization, I request that you will kindly give me at your earliest convenience, for my further guidance, your official opinion as to the mode of procedure that the said majority of the Council should initiate and follow to effectively remove a Commissioner.

Thanking you in advance for your prompt attention, I remain,
Respectfully,

A. V. BOUILLON,
City Commissioner.

CATTLE DYING FAST BURNS SAVES HERDS BY SHIPPING IN HAY

Scarcity of Grass Last Summer and Heavy Fall of Snow During Winter
the Cause—P. Burns Losses Light

Thousands of head of cattle are dying off in the far southern part of Alberta south and east of Lethbridge, and south into Montana, according to reports received from there this week.

Alberta herds will suffer heavy losses, according to the reports. There was very little summer pasture last year, and the snow has been deep this year. Very little of the snow has gone, and on the ranges where it has entirely melted, there is little or no grass for pasture. Consequently the herds are suffering, and it is said that hundreds of head are dropping off each day.

By shipping from the north hundreds of tons of hay to feed his cattle on the ranges, P. Burns, the millionaire rancher and packer of Calgary, is saving his thousands of head in the south country, where other ranchers are losing.

Mr. Burns is a guest at the Alberta today. He told The Capital that he had managed to save nearly every head of cattle he owned, by shipping in hay from the Edmonton district. He said the losses were greatly exaggerated, but that the cattle had had a hard winter, and there would be losses.

CAPITAL CITY IS CONNECTED WITH MANY OUTSIDE POINTS

NUMBER OF EXTENSIONS TO PROVINCIAL TELEPHONE SYSTEM DURING THE PAST FEW MONTHS GIVES
CITY CONNECTION WITH 152 TOWNS AND CITIES

Between the months of August, 1910, and February, 1911 the City of Edmonton has been given long distance telephone connections with 130 more points in the province, and in B.C. than was the case before August of last year, according to the new city telephone directory which has just been issued, and is now being handed to subscribers.

In August of last year the city had long distance connections with a total of 422 towns, and cities. Now the city can reach by long distance a total of 285 towns and cities, including points in British Columbia.

There have during the above months been added to the city directory a total of over 500 phones, bringing the total in use up to the 3000 mark. There have also been added a total of about 40 rural subscribers, in August the total having been 250 and the total now being 301.

The new towns on the long distance lines are chiefly along the Grand Trunk Pacific east of Edmonton, and along the C.P.R. towards Medicine Hat. Long distance connection with the other cities in the province, was first given in Medicine Hat last year when the government system was extended to that point, bringing in many towns and stations on the way.

The government system was also extended east to Wainwright on the G.P.R., making the complete circuit of the province from Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, to Calgary, and Edmonton, Wainwright and Lloydminster.

This year it is expected that the government system will be extended west of the city on the Grand Trunk, and that several more rural lines will be constructed, as well as two more trunk lines between Edmonton and Lethbridge.

GERMANY WATCHING U. S.

Berlin, March 9.—The German foreign office is watching the German situation with much interest. Up to the present time, however, no steps have been taken in the matter at Washington or elsewhere as no request for the protection of German interests has been received from that legislation or consults in Mexico.

LAWYER TRIED TO SHOW THERE WAS COLLUSION

Among Members of Builders' Exchange
Where Tenders Were Called for

ALDERMAN GRINDLEY WOULD NOT ANSWER QUESTION

Did Not Think It Pertained to Question in Hand—Examination for Discovery in Action of Gallagher vs. City Conducted This Morning

According to a statement made to The Capital this afternoon by George B. O'Connor, solicitor in the action of C. Gallagher vs. the city of Edmonton, for the six aldermen who voted for the dismissal of Com. Bouillon, O. M. Biggar sought to show in the examination of Ald. Grindley for discovery this morning that there existed an agreement between the members of the builders' exchange prearranging as to which contractor should obtain the work in connection with any construction for which tenders are required.

Ald. Grindley, Mr. O'Connor stated, declined to answer this question, as he considered that it had nothing to do with the matters in question, in the present action, but stated in the most emphatic manner that there was no such arrangement, and that no discussion took place between members of the exchange as to the arrangement of prices.

Examination for discovery of five of the aldermen who voted for the dismissal of Com. Bouillon took place in the office of the clerk of the supreme court this morning. The examination was conducted by O. M. Biggar, solicitor for Gallagher, in the action against the mayor and council and city. F. C. Bown and George B. O'Connor being present during the course of the morning to watch their clients' interests. Mayor Armstrong, and Ald. Moult, Melniau, Grindley, Miller and Gowan were examined. Ald. Miller has not been served with notice to appear for examination, and it is not yet decided whether Ald. Hyndman and McKinley will be called upon to appear.

Subsequent to the examination Geo. B. O'Connor, solicitor for the mayor and council in the present proceeding, declared to The Capital that Mr. Biggar, in his examination of Ald. Grindley, sought to show that no formal charges had been prepared against Com. Bouillon, and that the utilities commissioner had been given no chance to make an explanation except at a meeting held on February 21st, and that Ald. Grindley had a large influence in the firm of Gorman, Clancy and Grindley.

PASTURE SHEEP IN THE FOOTHILLS

Representatives of Alberta Sheep
Raisers Apply to Dominion Government

Alberta sheep raisers, including sheep raisers in both the north and south of the province, are asking the Dominion government for right to pasture sheep on certain sections in the foothills.

Representing the sheep industry of the province, Messrs. Jas. McCaig of Edmonton and W. Harvey of Cardston, in the south of the province, waited upon Hon. Frank Oliver, minister of the Interior, at Ottawa this week, and asked that the sheep raisers be allowed to take their herds into the foothills during the summer. They asked that certain sections, not used for cattle pasture, be set aside for the purpose of pasturing sheep.

Hon. Mr. Oliver promised to take the matter up. The sheep industry is rapidly growing to be a large one in the province, and there are several large herds.

COUNCIL HAS RIGHT TO EMPLOY ENGINEER SAYS SOLICITOR

WOULD NOT AFFECT THE POWERS AND DUTIES OF CITY COMMISSIONERS—DECISION LEGAL—CANNOT COMPEL COUNCIL TO VOTE MONEY

City Solicitor John C. F. Bown has been asked to act as a check upon each other. The council may refuse to furnish money to purchase machinery, but the commissioners selected by the council may refuse to pass upon machinery selected by the council. According to the law, however, the council have the perfect right to secure outside opinion on machinery, and if they do for the purpose of refusing to furnish money for machinery selected by the commissioners.

BOARD OF TRADE ADOPTS AMALGAMATION RESOLUTION

ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES OF UNION DISCUSSED AT LENGTH—MOTION CARRIES BY THREE VOTES—BOARD TO ENTER PUBLICITY LEAGUE

Strathcona, March 9.—Not one opponent to give union between Strathcona and Edmonton placed himself on record at last night's big meeting of the board of trade, but the resolution on amalgamation as introduced by Dr. Archibald was only passed by a majority of three when the discussion closed at nearly midnight. There was no dissenting voice raised against the part of the motion which endorsed the action of the city council in appointing a committee to discuss amalgamation, but even strong advocates of union protested against the expression of opinion, as to the advantages Strathcona would receive from amalgamation, that was incorporated in the second part of the resolution. It was pointed out that this amounted to a vote of censure to the committee already appointed, and to the council by whom they were appointed, which was denied by Dr. Archibald and his supporters. An amendment to this motion, to the effect that the endorsement merely be given to the council, was defeated by a vote of 14 to 11 after several of the members had left.

Long and Good Argument.

Dr. Archibald, speaking on his motion presented a good line of argument and showed throughout the long address a careful study of the question, trouble to secure important and fairly as well as having taking considerable accurate information and figures. He divided the points of advantage probable to Strathcona from amalgamation into eight sections as follows, he explained that there were merely for the purpose of endorsing civic union as:

P. BURNS MAY ERECT LARGE PACKING PLANT IN S'CONA

IS IN CITY TODAY LOOKING INTO THE MATTER—FORCED TO REMOVE FROM EDMONTON—BEEF IS HIGH IN PRICE BECAUSE CATTLE ARE VERY SCARCE

Patrick Burns, the millionaire packer and rancher of Calgary, who is a guest at the Alberta today, this morning announced to The Capital, the probability of the establishment by his firm of a large packing plant in Strathcona within the next year. What the eagerly expected part of the resolution, it will be the point, or the cost of it will be. Mr. Burns did not state, but he says that the plant will be a large one.

Mr. Burns stated that he has considerable property in Strathcona, and is now looking into the matter of erecting the new plant. The city council of Edmonton, he says, has forced him to remove his plant here, and he is seeking for a site elsewhere.

"Yes, beef is high in price, and it is possible that it may go higher," said Mr. Burns in the course of the interview with The Capital.

EXPLAINS RISE IN BEEF

"The whole cause of the high cost of beef is that cattle are actually scarce in the province, scarcer than they have been for a long time.

"This has been brought about by two causes. For the past few years cattle men have been shipping a great many cattle out of the country. Then, many head of younger cattle have been killed on recently, and this makes cattle very scarce.

"Alberta farmers are not raising as many cattle now as was formerly the case. This is essentially a cattle country, but until the farmers take up exit the raising more extensively, cattle will always be scarce.

"The new reciprocity agreement," said Mr. Burns, "I think will benefit all round to the cattle industry in Alberta. It will make it easier to do business, and I think it will be a good thing."

SHAUGHNESSY IN NEW YORK.

President of Canadian Pacific Says That His Company Will Spend $34,000,000 This Year.

New York, March 9.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C.P.R., and General Pinchoff, formerly chief forester of the United States, were fellow passengers today on the steamship Celtic, journeying to Europe.

Sir Thomas said that the C.P.R. contemplated spending about $34,000,000 in the coming year on improvements and extensions to their line and while in Europe he expected to plan orders for the building of two new ships for the Pacific trade. These steamships Sir Thomas would not give his views on the matter of reciprocity but said that he thought the general feeling in Canada was not very favorable to it.

HIGHEST MILITARY AUTHORITIES DECLARE U.S. TROOPS WILL CROSS THE RIO GRANDE WITHIN FEW DAYS

Standing Army of Republic is Now
Encamped on International Boundary Line

ATLANTIC FLEET ORDERED TO SEA WITH SEALED ORDERS

Fifty Thousand Men and Twenty Fighting
Ships of the Line are Ready to Start Conflict as Soon as Instructions are Flashed From Washington.

Washington, March 9.—The army now being mobilized in the department of Texas was today declared by the highest military authorities to be an army of invasion and that every detail for an indefinite campaign had been arranged for. The army is centralized at San Antonio and arrangements for crossing the Rio Grande have already been made. Even though the permanent bridges were destroyed the army would cross the stream as they are fully equipped with pontoon bridge apparatus. Maps of Mexico are now in the hands of Major General Carter, the commanding officer of the invading forces and the troops are standing by, ready at a moment to start on the campaign.

The assembling of the troops is under the guise of peaceful manoeuvres, but at the present time one third of the standing army of the United States is in the southern department and ninety per cent. of the remaining forces are being transferred southward as fast as special trains will carry them. General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, announces that he has carried out the instructions of the war department to the letter and that in a very few hours there will be camped on the banks of the Rio Grande practically the entire standing army of the republic. The navy is carrying out its share of the programme, the Pacific fleet lying off the coast while it is stated on reputable authority that two divisions of the Atlantic fleet are under standing orders to be prepared to go to sea at a moment's notice. All day and all night the supply ship Celtic was scurrying from one fighting monster to another loading the holds with supplies and ammunition. All the vessels of the Fifth division, Atlantic squadron, including the Kearsarge, Kentucky, Minnesota and Nebraska, together with two auxiliary cruisers and supply ships sailed last night from Newport News under sealed orders, headed in the direction of Guantanamo.

CLAIMS AGAINST WATERWAYS WILL AMOUNT TO $30,000

Must Be Presented to the Provincial Government Before March 18th.
Several Submitted

About $20,000 or $30,000 worth of claims against the Waterways Co., on the construction of the Alberta and Great Waterways railway, and never paid for, will be considered by the provincial government within the next few weeks.

The time for presenting claims against the Waterways Co., to the government expires next week. The time allowed was three months from the date of the passing of the act providing for the consideration of the claims.

The government has already received several claims. One of these is the claim for Dr. Melniau for about $10,000 for work on a fee and timber contract. Another is for $4,000 for cutting right of way, by Thos. Wright. Other claims will be presented of a various nature, some from settlers in the north who did work on the construction of the road. These claims have yet to be filed.

EXPLAINS ENTRANCE PLANS OF THE CANADIAN PACIFIC

SHOULD CROSS JASPER AVENUE TWELVE FEET BELOW
PRESENT LEVEL OPINION OF UTILITIES COMMISSIONER—MAY MEET RAILWAY ENGINEERS

A report which outlines the advantages of, and recommends the adoption of, an overhead bridge on Jasper avenue instead of the originally proposed subway, at the C.P.R. crossing, was submitted to the council this morning by City Commissioner Bouillon. The following is the report:

"The plans adopted for the entrance of the C.P.R. line into the city from the high level bridge, contemplated a grade line for the railway striding about even with the present surface of Jasper avenue, just east of Tenth street, with a uniformly ascending grade from the North end of the bridge to a point north of Jasper avenue of Tenth street, and it was contemplated to have overhead crossings for the avenues at McKay and Victoria; at Jasper avenue the plans contemplated a subway.

Plans Were Altered.

"There was some change in plan proposed during the past year by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. It appears now that the company does not propose to carry out the work according to the original plan registered with the agreement they have with the city. It was in this connection that this matter came up for further investigation by the commissioners some months ago, and being a stranger to what had taken place before, I naturally went into a general study of the question, first to acquaint myself with what had been agreed to, and secondly to determine whether or not the railway in grade then submitted by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company would be allowable. I formed the opinion in grade then submitted by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and which their agreement with the city was based.

CASES BEFORE HAGUE TRIBUNAL

Political Prisoners' Freedom Rests on Decision—British Convict Escaped in France

The Hague, March 9.—The permanent court of arbitration assembled yesterday to determine the case of the Indian law student Savarkar in dispute between Great Britain and France. An interesting international question of the right of asylum is involved. After preliminaries of opening, the session was adjourned until Thursday, when arrangements will be made.

Savarkar, an Indian subject of Great Britain, was arrested on his arrival in London, March 13, 1910, charged with sedition and ordered extradited to India for trial. When the vessel upon which he was being taken home stopped in Marseilles harbor Savarkar crawled through a port hole and swam ashore.

Captured in France

He was captured in Marseilles by the French police while running through the streets and calling out that he was being taken home. He was turned over to British detectives and taken on to Bombay for trial. The French Socialists raised the question of whether the student was properly surrendered to the British officers after he had set foot on French soil and appealed as best he could for refuge as a political prisoner.

The case excited so much controversy that the government of Great Britain and France exchanged notes on the subject and last fall agreed to submit the question to The Hague tribunal.

A little man in the west of England rushed to the river last summer, swearing that he had waded in the depths of his waist, his wife, who had followed him, seized him by the hair, and then, as a local doctor described it, "she led him back till he reached a place where the water was deep enough, where she pulled him over her shoulders, and, holding him under, and pulled his head up again." "I'm not drunk," (another source and start for the river) (another source, better yet of the health of the man) "I'll tell you to leave me a widow!" After the man's wife to her heart's content, she led him and a waiter if not a better man, and escorted him into the house, and closed the door.

When a former Lord Pate was ambassador at Constantinople, he, with the rest of the gentlemen who were in a public capacity at the same court, determined on one gala day to have each of them a dish dressed after the manner of their respective countries.

Lord Pate, for the honor of England, ordered a piece of roast beef and a plum pudding. The beef was easily cooked, but the court cooks did not know how to make a plum pudding, so he gave them a recipe. "Many eggs, so much milk, so much flour, and a given quantity of raisins; beaten up together, and boiled for three hours in five gallons of water. When dinner was served up, first came the French ambassador's dish, then that of the Spanish ambassador, and next, two fellows bearing attendances man and hawking. Room for the French ambassador's dish!"

"By Jove," cried his lordship, "I forget the bag, and these stupid scoundrels have boiled it without one—and in five gallons of water, too. Never mind; it will be good plum broth anyhow!"

A St. Louis merchant had made use of one of his clerks in the seat of his regular collector, who was ill. When the young man returned from his rounds, his employer observed that he looked rather down in the mouth.

"Have you any luck?" asked the merchant.

"So-so," replied the young man listlessly.

"How about that Jones bill? I suppose you collected that. You said that Mr. Jones was a friend of yours."

"Well, sir," said the clerk, "I don't know whether to rejoice or not at my success with Mr. Jones."

"What do you mean?"

"This, sir. When I went in and said, 'Mr. Jones, I called to speak about a matter—' he interrupted me before I could proceed further with, 'That all right, my boy; she's yours. Take her and be happy.'"

A rich clothier, being advised to try the bath waters, requested his physician to recommend him to a doctor who might be relied on, which was accordingly done. Not fancying Bath, in a few weeks heard some thing wonderful said of Cheltenham, and told his faithful assiduous he would go there if he could give him a letter to a skillful physician of the place, describing the case. This the doctor promised and performed, and had a liberal remuneration for his additional trouble.

Our clothier set off early on a fine summer morning, and as his coach was driving slowly along the road he thought it would be no great breach of confidence to open the doctor's packet, and see the particulars of his own case. This he did with great care, and after unfolding a quantity of blank paper, came to the letter, which was couched in the following words: "Dear sir, the bearer is a fat Villeneuve clothier; make the most of him."

UNREST GROWS IN CENTRAL AUSTRIA

Friedjung Forgeries Have Been Cause of Trouble—Several Ministers Resign

Berlin, German, March 9.—The old year would have passed away quietly, leaving no serious problems behind anywhere but for the unsettled political affairs in Austria. No international complications are threatening the already delicate European peace, and the slumbering political forces of the masses are calm, even in Greece. In Germany it is known that the calm is only the one which precedes a hurricane, but the election is too far off here to cast any alarming shadows upon the holidays. The crisis in Austria, however, together with new rumors of Emperor Francis Joseph's failing health and slackened grip upon the affairs of his kaiserdom empire, are a source of considerable anxiety, which has disturbed the Christmas joy of our statesmen. The news of the last few days sounds a little more encouraging. Rumors are afloat that France is not unwilling to supply the money needed to carry out the great canal scheme through Galicia, connecting the Danube, Oder and Vistula, which the Austrian-Poles desire, and the inability to cope with which was the cabinet's principal reason for resigning. If the government be willing to negotiate for a special canal loan in France, and this is sanctioned by the Reichsrath, the cabinet may be reconstructed and continue in power.

Even if this happens, it is said that the minister of foreign affairs, Count Aehrenthal, will definitely leave the political arena at the end of the Austro-Hungarian delegations in Budapest February next.

The affairs of the Friedjung forgeries has injured the prestige of the minister very considerably. When challenged in the Austrian parliament recently he categorically denied the use of his subordinate in Belgrade, Count Forasch, had anything to do with the man Wassilich, who confessed to forging the document supplied by the Austrian foreign office to Prof. Friedjung. It was on these documents that the latter based his charges published in the Neue Freie Presse against the Croatian delegation, who thereupon brought an action for libel against him, which, though compromised, was very successful. Nevertheless, the mere fact of government implication in such a miserable affair could not but have a disastrous effect upon the reputation of the minister responsible for the department of state involved.

The late Sir Charles Hammond, who won a Parliament seat at Newcastle in 1892, scored nobly off a heckler who ventured to interrupt his discourse. "Get your 'air cut, Charles," cried the interrupter. Sir Charles, who happened to be a magistrate, adjusted his glasses, and, calmly scrutinizing his interrupter, remarked, "My friend, if I am not mistaken, I have been the means of having your hair cut before to-day."

NURSE ROBBED A PATIENT.

Bodies of Rich Patients Who Have Died While Under Her Care May Be Examined.

Boston, Mass., March 9.—District Attorney Pollitt declares he will make a complete investigation of the past life of Miss Amelia J. Leonard, the nurse who is being held under $10,000 bonds for the alleged larceny of property valued at $6,162.50 from Miss Mary J. Lockwood, an aged patient of hers, who died at the Hotel Brunswick on February 14. It is even intimated that some of the bodies of the nurse's wealthy patients who died while under her care may be exhumed.

After Miss Lockwood's funeral, her relatives discovered that more than $6,000 worth of her jewels were missing. A trunk was recovered on Monday from a storage warehouse through a receipt found among Miss Leonard's possessions, and much of the contents were identified by Colonel and Mrs. William A. Gaston as the property of Miss Mary Jane Lockwood, worth nearly $100,000 worth of jewellery, pearls, diamonds, lingerie, curios and other property has been identified now as belonging to Miss Lockwood.

Most of this was shipped away from Miss Lockwood's apartments in her money trunk, while she was ill, under Miss Leonard's care. The nurse has confessed to the theft of jewellery valued at $6,162.50.

PAUPERS GET RICH.

Leicester, March 9.—It is reported that two men living at Babbly, a short distance from Leicester, who are drawing a government old age pension of five shillings ($1.25) weekly on nearly 80 years of extreme poverty, have inherited $1,000,000.

The money, as the story goes, was bequeathed to them by a brother, Mr. Henry Lewis, who died recently in Salt Lake City.

MONTREAL MAN IS AN HEIR TO MILLIONS.

Montreal, March 9.—George Normand, notary, has received a letter announcing that the family of Normand, of Beauport, has fallen heir to $800,000,000 by the death of the widow in France.

Marie Normand, of Beauport, so runs the story, became enamored of an English officer in 1837 and left with him for England after the rebellion. He served in all the countries of Europe till he was killed in Afghanistan, with the rank of general. He was very wealthy, and his widow retired to Paris, where, with her quiet living, the fortune grew to the amount stated at the time of her death.

Several priests have been arrested for reading the letter to their congregations. The communication while setting forth that it is the duty of Catholics to respect constituted authorities even though these be hostile to Catholicism adds that new law is unjust and contrary to the law of God it is not binding upon Catholics.

Between $15,000 and $20,000 worth of agricultural machinery has been shipped north this winter by Messrs. Beals and Hoar, to settlers in the Grande Prairie.

Mr. Beals stated to the Capital this morning that a very large amount of agricultural machinery was being taken north this year by settlers. Other firms have done a large business in this direction.

Much of this machinery is being taken north by new settlers coming into the Grande Prairie, of which there are an exceptionally large number this season. Several loads of implements are leaving the city daily.

See the Caledonian ad. on page 8.

FIRST EXCURSION TO LEAVE IN APRIL

Large Number of Prospective Settlers Will Visit the Province

This year the first excursion of settlers to come to the province this year will leave Toronto in April under the auspices of the provincial publicity department, according to Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, who returned from the east last night, after a three weeks trip.

He was accompanied in the east by Hon. A. J. McLean, provincial secretary, who visited several institutions for the insane, in the east, for the purpose of gathering ideas on equipment for the new provincial asylum at Ponoka.

It is probable that some announcement regarding the appointment of a superintendent for the institution will be made following Mr. McLean's return. Mr. McLean is at present in the south of the province.

Hon. Mr. Marshall stated that settlers would come in great numbers to the province this year, as indicated by the many inquiries of the various publicity offices of the government in the east.

Mr. Marshall visited Ottawa to lay before the railway commission a case for the improvement of shipping conditions for live stock, which will include the more rapid and more frequent delivery of cars, and the more rapid transition of stock.

He also interviewed Hon. Sydney Fisher, minister of agriculture for the Dominion, with regard to the work of the provincial and Dominion departments, with a view to preventing over-lapping.

INTERESTING LECTURE ON SMOKELESS COMBUSTION OF COAL.

A large number of citizens, including members of the Edmonton engineering society, gathered in the board of trade rooms last evening, to listen to a most interesting lecture on "Smokeless combustion of bituminous coals," delivered by Geo. D. B. Tassel, demonstrating expert of the Westinghouse Machine Company, of Chicago.

The subject is particularly interesting to this section of the country. Mr. Van Tassel described the invention of smokeless combustion machinery, and outlined the principles of the invention, and forecasted its general adoption in future years.

The lecture was held under the auspices of the engineering society, and a vote of thanks was tendered the lecturer.

Mr. Plunkett and his party are to spend 9 months working north from the Peace River, northeast of Fort Vermilion. The fifth meridian has now been extended to a point just south of the Peace River.

UNIFORM STOCK ARE NECESSARY

Exhibition Judges Hope to Eliminate Difficulties Experienced in the Past

The establishment of uniform types of live stock for the purpose of the judging ring at exhibitions in the province, as the subject under discussion at last night's work.

About a dozen judges were present, and the meeting was a lively one. Great difficulty has been experienced by judges in the past in judging live stock owing to the various different types of animals. It is the intention of the judges to agree upon certain uniform types which will assist them greatly in judging in the future.

The object sought by the judges will not be accomplished in one or two meetings. It will be necessary to hold several meetings before the matter has been fully adjusted, and it is the intention to hold a meeting at least once a year and possibly oftener.

Judges for the various exhibitions in the province will be selected by the agricultural department within a few weeks.

EXPLAINS ENTRANCE PLANS OF CANADIAN PACIFIC

arrangement of opposite extremes at the opposite ends of the line, but one strike one at once as leaving something to be desired from the standpoint of municipal engineering, as to reach the requisite level overhead on Victoria avenue, and the requisite depth on Jasper avenue, to permit the railroad to be laid on the most advantageous level, will cause heavy grades on the approaches to the overhead bridges and the subway, and aside from the damage to the abutting property along the overhead bridge, along the subway, the avenues will be destroyed for all practical purposes as city thoroughfares.

An Engineering Crime.
My conclusion from such general study of the situation as I have been enabled to make, is that it would be little short of an engineering crime, from the municipal point of view, to allow the railway to cross these important thoroughfares in the manner contemplated by the Company's plans, and while this is a question which unquestionably should have been raised and settled at the time of the agreement, yet the damage is not even begun, and prevention, and this in my judgment would be by far the better cure.

The commissioners have been endeavoring for some weeks to meet in conference with the engineers of the railway company to discuss the matter, but the question raised seems to be receiving but little interest on the part of the railway company.

Solution of Problem.
The least that should be done now, in my judgment, would be to require the railway to run from the north end of the bridge to Jasper avenue, on a slightly descending grade, crossing the said avenue about 12 ft. below the present level. This would enable us to build an overhead crossing on Jasper avenue with lesser grades on the approaches, which in my opinion would be a vast improvement for all purposes of business on abutting property and traffic over any plan of subway.

Schemes are submitted herewith showing alternative schemes for the respective crossings at Jasper, Victoria, and McKay avenues. Taking them in the order mentioned, these schemes show that the gradient to a subway on Jasper avenue would be nearly 10 per cent for the eastern approach and 3 per cent for the western approach; this could be reduced by altering the grade at the intersection of Seventh street at no great cost or damage.

"At the crossing of Victoria avenue the overhead bridge contemplated by the railway company's plans has a gradient of 13 per cent on the eastern approach and over 20 per cent on the western, whereas, with the railway lowered as suggested, the maximum gradient would be 5 per cent; this on the eastern approach.

"At McKay avenue the conditions are very similar to those at Victoria, the maximum gradient on the eastern approach to the overhead crossing conforming to the company's plan, of 12 per cent, and it is shown by the following table that if the alternative of lowering the railway could be carried out, the gradient on this approach could be reduced to 4 1/2 per cent.

"The railway commissioners of Canada have made it plain on different occasions that their efforts to improve conditions in cities are greatly hampered by ill-advised agreements which cities have entered into with railway companies. It would be unfortunate if similar conditions were to be experienced in Edmonton, and it is far better to re-open this subject now than to wait for its necessity later. It is my monthly payments like rent or a home, and in excellent west end location.—Apply, 653 Fifth street.
